

next-level DIGITAL NOMAD

Choose Where to Live and Work (See Chapter 6)

If you don't have a neighborhood or work space in mind already, use this worksheet to narrow your options.

See Chapter 6 and do a search for work spaces or coworking spaces. Based on location, price and amenities, list them using the table on page 2 and add notes here. More notes/considerations: Based on the table (page 2), choose your top one or two work spaces. Choice #1: Choice #2:_____

Work Space Name	Location	Cost per week	Pros	Cons	Notes

WORKSHEET C | next-level digital nomad

Next, use Google Maps or another tool and figure out your max commute radius around the work space. Mine is always 30 minutes; in other words, I don't want to commute more than 30 minutes on my workation, whether that's on foot or on a bus or by train.

Now, choose 1-3 neighborhoods and begin your actual housing search (see Chapter 5).

Write out your options using the chart on page 4 and add notes here.
More notes/considerations:
NOW, decide on your in-country housing and work location!
HOUSING:
WORK SPACE:
DDO TID
PRO TIP ———

To build a sense of community in your new neighborhood, look for a café, house of worship, or gym nearby where you become a "regular." In Wellington, we did the same yoga class four days a week and were soon recognizing our fellow classmates in other places throughout the city!

Neighborhood	Cost Per Week	Other Costs (cleaning fees, taxes, etc.)	Pros	Cons	Notes

©2018 Maria Surma Manka | Workation Woman